A MODERN, ECLECTIC MOTIF IN HOLLYWOOD OAKS, HOLLYWOOD, FL.

" A TRUE TRANSFORMATION " WHAT ONCE WAS A TRADITIONAL SETTING (NOW) A MAGNIFICANT MODERN/ECLECTIC MOTIF" IN HOLLYWOOD OAKS, HOLLYWOOD, FLORIDA

Sherri Goode worked diligently to achieve what her client requested. This request was to turn what once was a traditional setting into a more modern motif. Clean, simplistic, but more importantly, a comfortable feel. This open floor plan has a continuous flow from one room to another. Her client likes to entertain. These goals were accomplished by using multiple textures and finishes creating contrast with a splash of color and an earth-toned, color scheme.

The formal living room's beauty was created by using dramatic colors to create a warm down-to-earth feel that her client favored. The contemporary sofa and chairs were upholstered in a combination faux cobra leather/velvet, which gives an eclectic but modern appeal.

The contemporary, spiral, crystal chandelier drops down over the Harrison Gil cocktail table and illuminates the walls, which were hand painted in a special antique plaster technique. The drapery, decorative in nature, suits all needs and gives an opulent, but eclectic feel. The abstract art pops in contrasting hues to offset the earth toned feel. The black, long shag rug continues the elegant warm tone.

The foyer is used as a formal sitting area which evolved by using the existing open arm chairs which were covered in a faux, paten croc leather. The frames were painted in a flat black finish. The hand carved traditional mirror and side table gave the space an eclectic feel. Once again, the continuation of the antique plaster finish on the walls created a warm and cozy setting.

The dining room, warm and elegant in nature is set off by the contemporary finish on the feature wall which consists of a metallic plaster technique. This technique runs into the antique plaster technique that is used throughout the main formal areas. The seating is upholstered in a combination of leather and a harlequin pattern blend on the remaining chairs. The glass table top creates a reflection from the outdoors. The traditional style, silk rug mixes well with the contemporary art and finishes.

The warmth and comfort in the family room is one of her client's favorite hang-out spaces.

The custom wall unit was designed to accommodate her client's needs for audio visual requirements and to be decorative in nature.

The drywall niches allowed her client to display family photos and memorabilia. The contemporary sofa combined once again with a leather/fabric combination is also user friendly for the family. The Italian, cantilevered, marble cocktail table set the tone for the contemporary setting.

The long haired rocky road, shag rug is as versatile as it is comfortable. The metallic plaster technique was used on the foreground of the wall and combined with solid flat paint in the niches. The contrast of the finishes accentuated the family photos and accessories.

The master bedroom suite exemplified an elegant, warm and comfortable feel. The client requested that the outdoors be brought in by using decorative window treatments only. The window treatments were created by using black and gold sheers to tie in the wall to wall carpeting. The creamy/gold colored bedding was ordered to contrast and coordinate with the carpeting/window treatments. The sitting chairs created a cozy space for her client to read and relax. The silk calle Lillie arrangement was made custom for her client which had to be done in a contemporary style. The glass liquid illusion did the trick. The abstract art once again created the eclectic flair to this traditional suite.

The common denominator used throughout the interior was mixing textures and finishes to create a warm, Modern Motif. The design goal was to create a Rich, Formal, Modern feel which once was very traditional in nature. The attention to detail yields a space that emits warmth and luxury, just as the client processes. The compelling mix in this home maintains an approachability that truly makes it feel like home.

AN ITALIAN-INSPIRED HOME IN BOCA RATON

DESIGNER Roz Shuster Designs, Boca Raton, Florida
561.443.7010 www.rozshusterdesigns.com
PHOTOGRAPHY Craig Denis Photography, Miami

After seeing some photos of Roz Shuster's work in a magazine, a professional couple from New York selected Roz Shuster Designs to create the interiors of their new home in South Florida. These particular clients wanted a timeless look of classic elegance with fine details. To achieve this look, Roz Shuster Designs suggested a color palette of golds, terracottas and greens.

The family room couches are a butter colored leather with coordinating pillows. The cocktail table is wrought iron opposite a custom designed wall unit. Windows were treated with linen sheers and a cornice to match the breakfast room (p.28). The ceiling was treated with a metallic faux finish.

A GRAND ENTRANCE

Upon entering the house (below), a beautiful marble inlay was added into the floor of the entryway of this home along with painted metallic details around the walls in the rotunda. An elegant chandelier with matching sconces on the pillars and two mirrored pedestals create a very elegant and dramatic entrance.

EVERYTHING IS COORDINATED THROUGH SUBTLE CHOICES OF FABRIC WITH COLORED PILLOWS.

The great room (above) directly behind the foyer was treated with more stenciling and crown moldings around the perimeter of the soffit and two beautiful green silk couches. Two red chairs and an ottoman surround an antique gold-mirrored cocktail table and all sit effortlessly on a soft-colored rug. The draperies are two different color silks embellished with beautiful trim and sheers. Everything is coordinated through subtle choices of fabric with colored pillows.

In the dining room, a beautiful wrought iron chandelier hangs over the center of the dining table. The barrel-vaulted ceiling was treated with a bronze metallic faux finish embellished around the chandelier with a stencil in raised plaster.

The chairs have been upholstered in two different fabrics, with a chenille and a floral to show off the detailed recessed backs of the chairs. Silk drapes with antique gold medallions and sheers were created to frame the dining room. A piece of art and mirror are added as well.

The breakfast room (below) has a rattan and iron table with rattan chairs. A glass light fixture is added. A beautiful cornice and soft silhouettes are placed in the window to shield the sun.

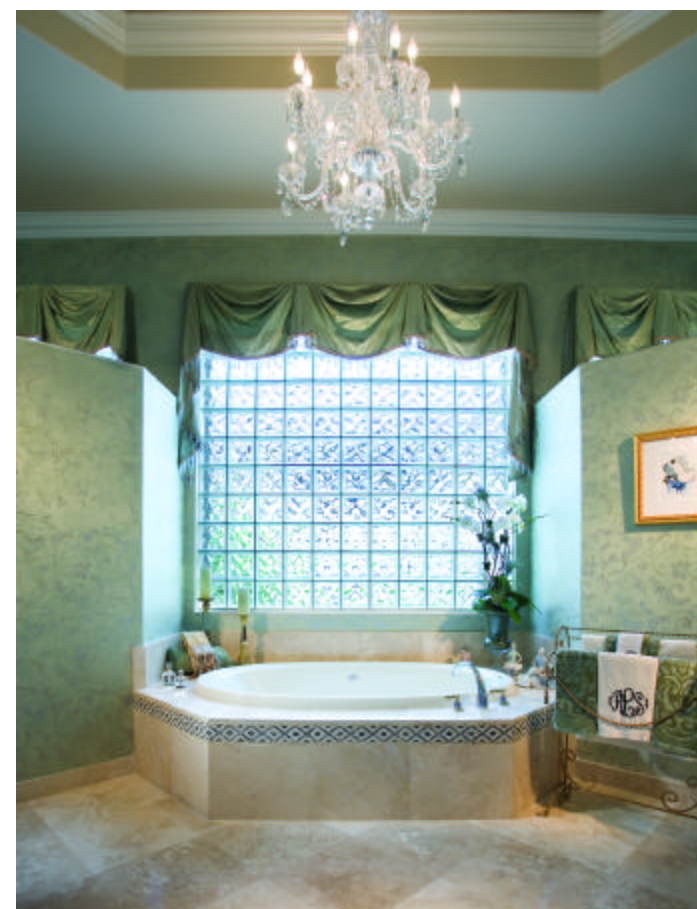

BEAUTIFUL FLORALS AND ITALIAN ORNAMENTAL PIECES ADORN THE KITCHEN.

The kitchen (above) combines beautiful florals and Italian ornamental pieces that flank the top of the cabinetry. The cabinetry lights up at night enhancing the ambience of the home.

An enticing bar area off of the living room creates extra seating and ample room for guests to enjoy themselves in this social area of the house.

The master bedroom features a faux finished ceiling with a crystal and iron chandelier. The headboard and bedding were custom made by Roz Shuster Designs. Two mirrored bachelor chests are placed on either side of the bed with a mirrored buffet placed below the flat screen TV. Artwork was also added and custom designed. The entry to the bedroom also originally had a niche, which is now antique mirrored and faux finished. Stone moldings with cut out detail are at the top of the entryway to this room.

The master bathroom has been hand stenciled with the colors that were brought in from the master bedroom in a soft blue with silver and gold accents. The ceiling was also faux finished and fitted with silk draperies with crystal beads. Crystal light fixtures and sconces are added as well.

The study walls (upper right page) were treated with venetian plaster. Wooden shutters complete the windows and the room showcases the owners' impressive collectables. Included is a custom-made golf bag made for the gentleman of the house by a very good friend of his. A personal piece is always a great addition and it works beautifully in this room with the rest of the décor.

THIS IS HER OWN SPACE AND SHE LOVES SPENDING TIME HERE.

The last room was created in a completely different look for the lady of the house who had a whole collection of paperweights and some very bright contemporary art pieces. She wanted this room to house her eclectic pieces and for this room to be her own personal place. The walls were venetian plastered with glass shelves applied to the walls. Original couches purchased from Italy were also added. The draperies are constructed using metallic silver linen sheers and metal rods. This is her own space and she loves spending time here. END
