The modern bed is by Ferguson Copeland and is upholstered in faux leather to coordinate with the faux leather ottomans. The oversized chests are by Swaim which allows for maximum storage and maximum design. Everywhere you turn is a spectacular custom piece of furniture. The custom bedding coordinates with the custom window treatments. The walls were finished in Venetian Plaster to coordinate with the color wash finish in the tray ceiling. Italian porcelain wood look tile was installed in a random configuration to create length and size to the master suite.

Sherri has been designing for 10 years throughout South Florida from Palm Beach to Brickell avenue, Miami. Her specialty is high-end residential projects including private homes in gated communities such as Admirals Cove, Harbour Beach, Hawk's Landing, and many more. "My goal as a designer is to create a look for my clients that is unique and special and always incorporate their needs, requests and personality into every project," says Goode.

This opulent bedroom features a custom upholstered floor to ceiling wall behind a bed to create a dramatic headboard. Upholstered panels in the same leather create a sleek finished look, to house the box spring. The geometric square design element in the headboard is repeated in the geometric pattern of the wall to wall broadloom, and again in the drapery casement panels. The foot of the bed is accented with two signature silver leaf benches, featuring geometric circular openings creating an open contemporary design.

Sheri Kesten is known for her sophisticated sleek environments. Her signature look is often reflected with monochromatic colors, creating a soothing yet inviting atmosphere. She has over 25 years of experience, and has the innate ability to interpret her clients' design objectives and incorporate their lifestyle with her creative and unique ideas. Her impeccable taste and styling is manifested in her design concepts, and readily recognizable in the industry.

DREAMY BEDROOMS

The most intimate area of the house is the master bedroom.. Dumas kept special attention to including just the right touches that would bring a stylish feel without overcrowding. This area was designed in a color pallet of silver, light blues and creams, which create a contrast with the dark wood floors and the dark wood furniture pieces. The Century Bed with its high grid headboard gives the wall a soft dimension. The artwork over the bed, an Anna Razumovskaya piece, provides a romantic and personal touch. The rug by Modern Nature breaks through the dark wood floors in an easy flow of pattern and color. With spectacular views of the intracoastal, Dumas and her clients accomplished a serene retreat in the master bedroom to end and start the day.

Elements by Design offers concept development, space planning and design and furniture, fabric selection and placement. Owner, Clemencia Dumas, focuses on the transformation of spaces into harmonious areas filled with beauty, personality, and practicality. She always strives to provide the highest quality of craftsmanship to make the design process an exciting and easy experience for her clients.

The bedroom was designed to be an all white room with a clean, modern feel. To add interest to the all white space, we chose lots of textured accents, such as the white Elitis "Geisha" wallpaper, used on the wall behind the bed. Other elements include the faux mongolian fur bench with lucite legs at the foot of the custom bed. The beautiful dark wood cabinetry with high gloss white accents was used to add contrast to the whites as well, and tied in with the chocolate brown and white zebra pillows on the bed.

Alena Capra Designs is a full service interior design firm based in Dania Beach, Florida. Alena carved her niche in the design world by initially focusing her efforts on two areas of the home...the kitchen and bath. Eventually her design experience evolved into designing full interiors for homes throughout South Florida, as well as many commercial projects. She also has participated in various design showcases, including DCOTA's Around the World Showcase in Four Rooms Showcase in 2012, and the inaugural installation and Design Showcase at Coverings, Orlando, in 2010. Her work has been featured in Miami Design, Gold Coast Magazine, and Florida Decor magazines.

In the Master Bedroom on the second floor, the owners requested a room that was filled with serenity and peacefulness. Eloise achieved their needs by designing a room not only focused on relaxation but also in beauty. The walls and ceiling are finished in white Lusterstone that shimmers in the light. Beautiful embroidered drapery and the tufted velvet upholstered bed add a touch of elegance and the loveseat makes an intimate hideaway to relax.

Eloise presently concentrates on integrating architectural interiors with interior design detailing for commercial, hospitality and luxury home installations, often working in conjunction with architects and builders prior to the project being built. Having a general contractor's experience and background to draw on, she knows not only what to expect during the scope of a project, but also how to control costs. "Getting it right from the start makes the process as enjoyable as the finished product." Expertise in planning, careful attention to the client's desires and over 30 years of professional experience enhance Eloise's broad knowledge and give the client comprehensive service.

ART & DESIGN IN A TRUMP TOWER CONDO

DESIGN Sheri Kesten Design
101 Plaza Real South #528
Boca Raton , Florida 33432
www.sherikestendesign.com
Lindsey Brody and Gabrielle Cohen

Art and accessories are the connective thread in interior design and impact a space greatly. They warm or cool down an environment, and this enhancement can change the look of the décor significantly. When selecting art and accessories while designing a space, the style of the room can change notably, creating a contemporary, transitional, or traditional essence. Art and accessories should be representative of the homeowner's personality and taste. The client in this specific project asked me to accessorize using shades of orange and blue. Accessorising should encompass symmetry and objects that have a common design element, with the purpose of generating a finished and stylized look.

The four swivel chairs in the living room adjacent to the sectional provide additional seating. In this ocean front condo they are done in a leathery vinyl, for easy care and maintenance. The turquoise color is dramatic in this setting directly facing the ocean, intensifying this astounding view from the condo.

(Above) The cocktail table is glass, lucite and stainless steel, accessorized with a limited edition polished steel kinetic sculpture. The lightness of the table gives the room a bright and open feeling.

(Left) Hand painted limited edition canvases are a backdrop to the contemporary crystal candleholders atop this bar cart. The use of blue and orange hues are prevalent throughout this project, specifically to address the client's wishes as her accent colors.

(Right) The other coffee table in the living room is a sprawling rectangle to compliment the geometric L shaped sectional in off-white linen. Use of a single oversized accessory in a stunning graceful container finishes a sleek look atop this coffee table.

Silk pillows in turquoise and cinnabar adorn the large sectional, once again, bringing in the common design element of the two accent colors used throughout.

The walls are painted in a soft neutral tone to showcase the art. The art is abstract to exude a sleek contemporary styling using the blues and oranges, once again, to compliment the furnishings and décor.

The sculptural container, with dark bamboo shoots, is strategically placed on the floor accentuating the engineered marble inlay in the foyer. The choice of the container is purposeful to create a Zen feeling as you enter the main living space of the condo. The artwork on the walls in this photo uses different canvas sizes and variance of layout, to emphasize architectural design and sharpness of color.

The table in this lengthy foyer is placed as the footnote to show where foyer ends and living space begins. The table is reclaimed wood, trimmed in hand forged iron.

An oversized canvas although abstract in nature, is symbolic of the water and horizon, to personify the exquisite panoramic ocean front view. The console table is nautically accessorized with a metal urn and a driftwood bowl which is both aesthetic and functional as a convenient catch all for keys.

The master bathroom is predominantly Carrera marble with integrated mother of pearl tiles. The tiling is done in two basic shapes to give the bathroom a sleek and spa like design. The subway shaped tile and the mosaic tiling are inlaid and give a hint of the turquoise color and a warm compliment to the Carrera.

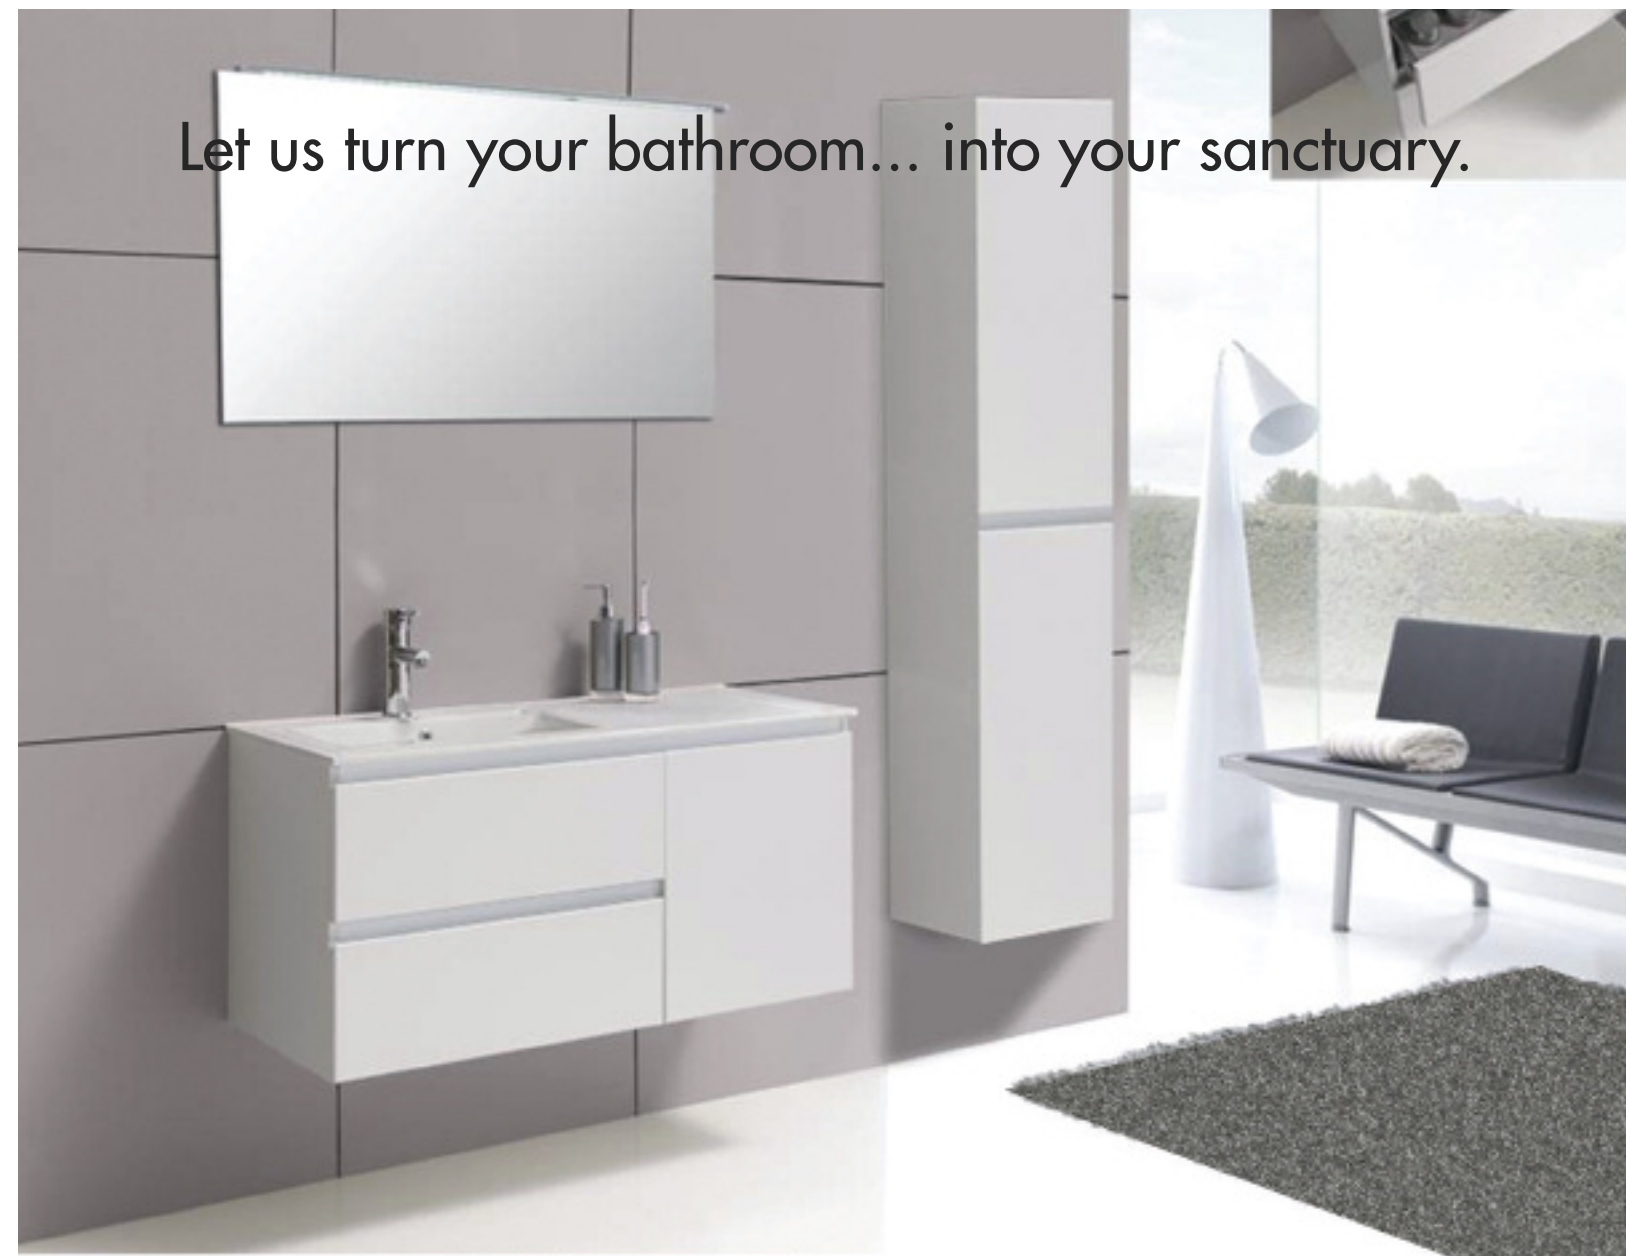

The drop in soak tub is a luxurious compliment to the glass-enclosed shower. An integrated bench from shower to tub deck gives an uninterrupted, elongated and lavish look to the bathroom. Hand held hardware is installed in both the shower and on the tub deck for easy rinse of sand from the beach.

The simplicity of the tailored linen platform bed is simple and elegant. Minimally accessorized with monochromatic bedding in three different textures of silk is luxuriously chic. Bedside lamps are hand made glass with the signature dragonfly motif, and once again the shades are done in a hue of the off white silk. The painting above the bed is a sharp abstract compliment to the monochromatic colorization and styling.

A sitting area (not shown) in this bedroom consists of two very comfortable HIS and HER chaise lounges. They are positioned on a wool and silk area rug, atop the marble floor and face an oversized wall mounted TV. Lounges are upholstered in a cushy chenille, and framed in the same raw silk fabric used as seen on the Duvet cover. These two lounges are the perfect finishing touch for R&R in the master bedroom.
