HOME OFFICE DESIGN SOURCES

Olga Adler Interiors

Overlooking the pool, this home office was designed by Olga Adler Interiors with efficiency, comfort and style in mind. A custom area rug, sofa and window coverings play supporting roles to the main players - a modern leather-top desk and Eames executive chair. Grasscloth-covered filing cabinets with striking artwork and accessories complete the picture. www.olgaadlerinteriors.com

Toby Zack Designs, Inc.

Nowadays, the home office is probably one of the most important spaces in the home; a reason why, in addition to functionality, it is imperative that the design creates an inviting and calming place for relaxation, work and family time. The space is designed with an ample desk area and extensive open shelves to create a balance between the two. The use of a sleek sleep sofa, as the anchor piece, allows for the room to be used as a guest bedroom as well as an office. tobyzackdesigns.houzz.com

Perla Lichi Design Comfort and serenity are two words that best describe this home office layout designed by Perla Lichi. The homeowner's goal was to work at home while maintaining a productive and serene environment. This extra bedroom was smartly converted into a full working space and affords excellent lighting and a view of the surrounding Florida landscape. The style combines modern with retro design and features several organic elements to carry the look of the rest of the home. The highly functional walnut desk perfectly coordinates with the ever-so-comfortable chairs, which makes this home office great for productivity without sacrificing luxury.

SHADES OF BLUE

INTERIOR DESIGN Migena Gace
ASID Interior Designer,
M Design Studio, Naples, Florida

ARCHITECT Adrian Karapici, AIA,
NCARB, Naples, Florida

When we were first asked to take a look at this house for our clients before they decided to purchase it we didn't know what to expect. The house needed a lot of work but the "good bones" were there. The spaces had very tall ceilings, large windows that allowed a lot of light and views through-out the house and a beautiful curved staircase leading to a partial second floor. It was a text book description of what we designers call: "A diamond in the rough".

The house located in the Quail Creek Community in Naples Florida, overlooking the magnificent 17-th fairway had never seen an update since it was built 25 years ago. We were very lucky to have had a great couple as client which we became friend at the end.

They made the process fun from the beginning. Their main goal was to renovate the house into a fun space to celebrate and entertain family and friends. With a lot of family visiting from Michigan and West Palm Beach they wanted to create separate spaces for everyone to feel comfortable but also feel that they were all together.

Their goal was to live in a house that was light and airy and decor didn't compete with the golf views surrounding the house. We decided to go with shades of blues on creating the color scheme and decor of interiors

Kitchen area and Family Room take the center stage. The owners were proud to display their wine collection in a climate control wine display area as a back drop to the gathering table. Through out the space the color pallet is very calm, light and airy with accent colors as focal views. The kitchen island stands apart finished in shades of blues and incorporating a wine cooler for the special bottles of wines. Hardwood flooring was installed throughout the space to create a more warm open feeling. We wanted the eye to flow without visually changing materials from one room to another. The entire house can be admired when standing at the island. The spaces flow from the kitchen to the family seating area where fireplaces are featured on focal walls both in the living room and family room. Views, Views and more Views. Light Sheers and recessed shades were incorporated in all the bedrooms windows to allow the views not to be interrupted. All the dark stained millwork, was painted in high gloss finish paint. Nana doors were installed on the golf side to make the walls disappear and letting the outside come in.

SOURCES

Hardwood Flooring: Hadingers Flooring
 Lighting and Art Work: Wilson Lighting
 Kitchen/ Cabinetry: Fine Cabinetry of Naples
 Painting and Trim: Best Way Painting Inc.
 Counter Tops: Cambria USA

All the Furnishings were selected to complement the space and not overpower it. Simple lines and neutral fabrics were used through out the interiors. The goal was to create comfortable, casual spaces that look luxurious. The moment you walk in the house we wanted to create the feeling of embracing a fresh breath of air.

Not Always Contemporary

INTERIOR DESIGNER Steven G and team
PHOTOGRAPHY Barry Grossman
LOCATION St. Regis

Renowned interior design firm Interiors by Steven G designs for his clients. “Our clientele mostly desires a contemporary style, but once in a while we still have those who long for the warmth and coziness of a traditional home.

The homeowners desired a home with a traditional, comfortable feel throughout. “Their private art collection was brought to their new home from South America and we designed the home around the art as it was such an important part of their lives.” Says Steven G

The St Regis unit is a full time residence complete with the most amazing custom-designed drop ceilings, which feature LED cove lighting and LED down lighting to create a warm, cozy elegant feeling.

The master bedroom’s design is fit for royalty. The Italian chandelier’s reflection glows against the ceiling, which is surrounded by cove lighting. The custom designed bed rests within a niche setting, touching a diamond patterned upholstered wall creating a cozy ambience. Authentic antique furniture is throughout the home from Antiquities.
