Sherri Goode's goal was to make the interiors of this renovated project into a "Dream Home" for her clients, which they could truly call home for the entire family to share, to be together, and to entertain!

The floors throughout the main areas were installed in the chiseled edged, 5 piece French pattern, crema bella marble, thus giving the home a European feel. The warmth was created carefully by choosing a color palate in the earth tone colors designed specifically to her client's likings .

The pool side view takes the cake. This setting sets the tone of "WOW" where am I? California coast? The cozy, comfortable patio furniture was a custom-made traditional collection, which was upholstered in sunbrella fabric in rust and chocolate colored hues. The sitting areas is surrounded with stone columns, a marble outdoor fireplace, and an outdoor kitchen. The lighting also plays an important role to this setting. The Fine Art coach lights and Pacific palisades fans give the feel of being indoors. The view is spectacular! While overlooking the lake, your eyes are drawn to the pool that is covered in blue and white mosaic glass tiles.

“The elegance of this room is created by a custom built entertainment center...”

This great room/formal living room was created for the sole purpose of not wasting any space in the open floor plan. My clients use this room on a daily basis, for entertaining or for casual comfort. The gabled roof line creates more room, giving it an open feel. The large, semi-lunar, leather sofa was custom made with contrasting fabric for the back pillows.

The elegance of this room is created by a custom-built entertainment center in a dark distressed finish mixed with applied panels, giving a unique feel. A coordinated custom built walk-up bar is as unique as it is functional. Slate ledger stone is used for the back splash. The walls are hand painted in an old world plaster technique. The silk, hand washed 10' x 14' rug tied the room together. The copper hued faux silk window treatments created a beautiful backdrop to the outdoors. Decorative in nature, the room allows access through the French doors to the poolside, which overlooks the lake.

The dining room exudes elegance with an old world feel!

The dining room exudes elegance with an old world feel! The oversized Mediterranean-style chandelier coordinates with the iron wall sconces, which consist of hand-made shades with custom-cut crystal pendants. The lighting complements the oval, wood-planked dining room table and chairs, which are upholstered in a rich leather/fabric combination. A perfect place to dine in comfort. The backdrop of the beaded tassel window treatments and hand-made silk rug tie the room together and creates an opulent feel.

The game room (another cozy get-a-way) is also used as a display for my clients collectables. The custom built-outs were a mirror image of each other on both sides of the pool table. The room was connected by the wainscoting that wrapped the room. The Mediterranean-inspired pool table 3-light pendant with the custom faux leather cornice tied the space together. Once again, giving an old world feel.

A crystal cut chandelier brought in the formality and elegance to the room.

The master suite, traditional in nature, was designed with my clients' color palate in mind. Multiple hues of blues and gold were used for the theme throughout. The striped feature wall was hand panted with a stencil technique and gold metallic paint was applied. This coordinated beautifully with the silk fabrics in the custom bedding. A crystal cut chandelier brought in the formality and elegance to the room. To soften up the space, a silk, hand washed, rug was placed under the bed to create the warmth that the room required.

The master bath, a true space that emits opulence!

The master bath is a space that emits opulence! It is raining Onyx! The Onyx counter tops lined the his-and-her custom cabinets along with the tub deck and walls. Spectacular! The custom Austrian sheers softened up the back drop of the glass window along with the antique gold semi-flush mount chandelier, which was dressed with amber-hued, oversized crystal pendants.

The open floor plan in this kitchen is the focal point of the home. From the minute you step foot through the door, the kitchen draws your eyes. This space allows for a flow-through into three spaces: the dining room, family room and main areas. Multi-tasking takes place, ie., such as eating at the island butcher block, wood breakfast table or sitting at the bar. The surrounding areas of the kitchen was painted in a plaster finish technique to define the spaces. The iron chandelier dresses up the multi-level breakfast island. The dark wood cabinets contrasted the marble floors to create a warm feel.

The common theme used throughout the interior was accomplished by using multiple textures and warm tone color hues. Hence, whether it was created in the art or accessories, the elegance of this open floor plan and architecture yielded a space that emits warmth and luxury - features desired by the clients, both of whom can be described as true class acts, warm, classy and unpretentious in nature. A true "down-to-earth" family!
